About Henrik Juel

- just a student of life

Privately, I live with my wonderful wife Ambre out in the country at the village of Sødinge, Fyn, maintaining an old house and a garden with fruit and vegetables.

Sødingevej 9, 5750 Ringe, Denmark

My main academic background is in Philosophy (Critical Theory, Hermeneutics, Phenomenology, all the great Germans and Greeks) - but I dabble into many aspects of the humanities: aesthetics, communication, rhetoric & film studies - including practical video production. and oral presentation.

Before settling at Roskilde University, I had scholarships and teaching jobs at 5 different Danish universities. At Roskilde University I have mainly been teaching on the International Track, Communication Studies. As of December 2023, I have retired, but continues as an emeritus and as a censor (external examiner) at various other Danish Universities.

Col d'Aspin, 2023

I have a passion for great films late at night, for climbing mountains on my superlight racing bike, for driving long roads to France, for meeting my old Viking Ship Friends, for enjoying and reflecting on nature, and so I am:
